DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

1. The information disclosure statement (IDS) submitted on 5/23/05 received. The submission is in compliance with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97. Accordingly, the information disclosure statement is being considered by the examiner.

Claim Objections

2. Claim 22 is objected to because of the following informalities: Claim 22 depends on itself. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ahmad et al. (2002/0082029).

As to claims 1, 12, and 23-24, Ahmad et al. teaches a method of wireless communication comprising:

establishing a packet data session from a wireless communications device to support a network connection to a packet switched network (paragraphs [0007]; [0024]); and receiving a notification at the wireless communications device of an incoming call from a voice message server (paragraph [0038] - Internet Call -Waiting Server) / a circuit switch network while the network connection is active (paragraphs [0035] - [0036]).

Claim 29 is rejected for the same reasons as discussed above with respect to claim 1. Furthermore, operating a wireless device in a serving network, the wireless device being assigned to a home network different from the serving network is known by the skilled person having assigned to a home network can be operating in visitor networks. The communications device is operating in a serving network different from the home network is merely one of several straightforward possibilities from which the skilled person would select, in accordance with circumstances, without the exercise of inventive skill.

As to claims 2, 13, and 25, Ahmad et al. teaches receiving notification at the wireless communications device over the packet data session (paragraphs [0036] and [0038]).

As to claims 3, 14, and 26, Ahmad et al. teaches registering from the wireless communications device over the packet data session with a voice message server (Internet Call -Waiting Server) to receive the notification (paragraph [0039]).

As to claims 4-5 and 15-16, Ahmad et al. teaches the use of a session key and a transport control protocol session is considered to be implicit in a packet data session (paragraphs [0036] and [0038]).

As to claims 6-11, 17-22, and 27-28, Ahmad et al. teaches terminating the packet data session in response to the notification of the incoming call, and accepting the incoming call from the circuit switched network; receiving the notification at the wireless device from a voice message server and sending a reply over the packet data session from the wireless device to the voice message server in response to the notification (paragraphs [0011], [0036] and [0039]).

Claims 30-33 are rejected for the same reasons as discussed above with respect to claims 25-28, respectively and the first limitation of claim 29.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Norris et al. (US Patent 5,805,587) teaches call notification feature for a telephone line connected to the Internet.
